

Mildred Forwood Garling '32

Best wishes to Mildred Forwood Garling '32 on the occasion of her 100th birthday, which she celebrated on November 22 among family and friends in Lebanon, Ohio. Mrs. Garling celebrated in high style with a party themed “Thoroughly Modern Mildred.” She spent the past year planning every detail of this special day and those in attendance, many of whom had ties to Otterbein College, had a marvelous time.

Mrs. Garling is truly a remarkable woman. She begins each day by saying, “What wonderful things are going to happen to me today?” Every night before she goes to bed she lists at least three positive things that happened during that day. Many days there are far more than three things to list and she considers each of those things to be a blessing.

Such optimism has inspired the staff of Institutional Advancement and Mrs. Garling’s daily query is now painted on the wall of the break room of Howard House. Happy Birthday Mrs. Garling!
