

Virtual Otterbein...

The Otterbein College web site, www.otterbein.edu has a fresh, new look. Starting with the home page, the new design has been updated and the navigation simplified to provide a more user-friendly experience. Each unique user will be able to browse information specific to their needs using the new left-hand navigation links. The new A-Z Index in the top navigation toolbar lists anything a user may be looking for and takes them directly to that location. Work is ongoing to migrate all web pages, including the academic departments, into the new design. A new scroll-over feature will be added to the photos on the home page to further define what the photos represent. They will change often presenting new photos and copy to share all that Otterbein offers.

Please feel free to browse the new Otterbein College web site to see all the changes and contact the webmaster (mail to: webmaster@otterbein.edu) with any questions or comments.
