

Not meeting academic goals, or having unexpected setbacks, can be challenging for anyone.

Many students are surprised by the rigors of college, the need for self-regulated learning or simply losing focus or motivation. Hitting this bump in the road doesn't mean you won't be successful! However, most students need some additional assistance to get back on a successful track.

This brochure highlights the important resources available at Otterbein provided by three key offices on campus. Each offers services and support that students who might be struggling academically can take advantage of anytime during the semester.

Academic Support

Academic Support Center

Through collaboration with students, faculty, and staff, the Academic Support Center (ASC) supports students in becoming independent, life-long learners in an accessible, student-centered environment. The ASC facilitates the development of learning strategies and skills in partnership with peers and professionals through tutoring, academic coaching, supplemental instruction, academic courses and other learner-focused services such as accommodations for students with disabilities. All Services are free.

The Academic Support Center provides:

- Academic Coaching - 1:1 – help with time management and personal accountability, learning and study strategies, note taking, test taking skills and test anxiety support.
- Disability Services – qualified students receive academic accommodations such as distraction-reduced testing.
- Math Lab – walk-in math tutoring.
- One-on-one Tutoring – tutoring for most classes not covered by the Math Lab and Writing Center.
- Supplemental Instruction (SI) – peer-assisted group review/study sessions.
- Writing Center – assistance with any part of a writing assignment.

» For more information, contact the ASC at 614.823.1610. Visit the ASC website at www.otterbein.edu/asc.

Center for Student Success

The Center for Student Success (CSS) serves as a resource center for students who want to remain at Otterbein, but have encountered obstacles along the way. Additionally, CSS supports academic advising on campus, including providing supplemental academic advising to any student in need as well as peer advising. CSS serves as an advocate to help remove barriers to student success.

The Center for Student Success provides:

- Additional advising about pathways to graduation.
- Coordination and Support of programs for students who need additional academic resources to boost their potential for success at Otterbein.
- Ongoing meetings with advisors to monitor progress and provide accountability.
- Review of current and future course schedules to align schedule to best meet your potential success.

» For more information, contact the CSS at 614.823.1624 or studentsuccess@otterbein.edu. Visit www.otterbein.edu/studentsuccess.
